Re: HPC November 21, 2019 agenda – Item 5, Encina Power Station

Historic Preservation Commissioners,

Save Our Heritage Organisation (SOHO) supports an art installation, as determined appropriate by the local community, that interprets the history of the Encina Power Station within Carlsbad. This new interpretive artwork could potentially utilize salvaged material from the Power Station and be located at the current site of the 1954 Station or even an appropriate nearby alternative location, as supported by the Carlsbad community.

SOHO encourages the exploration of an art installation that has community support and explains the context for why the Encina Power Station was constructed as well as why it has been decommissioned.

Thank you for the opportunity to comment,

Bruce Coons
Executive Director

I feel it is important to keep the Encina power plant chimney tower in Carlsbad. It has been a beacon for many, many years. It is a safety feature for swimmers, surfers, and pilots. It identifies the city and is part of Carlsbad's important heritage.
